Certificate of Compliance REACH / RoHS / SVHC / PFAS

Dear Madam/Sir,

At Pragmatic, we strive to comply with all necessary legislative and regulatory requirements regarding chemicals contained within our products to meet both the legal requirements and the expectations and needs of our customers, stakeholders and investors.

To the best of our knowledge, Pragmatic complies with the following;

- REACH Regulation (Registration, Evaluation, Authorisation and restriction of Chemical Substances) (EC) No.: 1907/2006
- PFAS (per-and polyfluoroalkyl substances) we are actively engaging with our Suppliers to identify and remove PFAS and its constituents from our approved chemicals and to use non-PFAS alternatives where possible
- SVHC's (Substance of Very High Concern) are potentially harmful as stated in Article 33 of the REACH Regulation, it is our duty to disclose the presence of SVHC's in excess of 0.1% of article weight.

- RoHS Directive (Restriction of Hazardous Substances Directive 2002/95/E)

Pragmatic will continue its compliance activities relating to the above regulations/ directives, and similar associated directives, to ensure that we continue to meet the legal requirements and customer/stakeholder expectations. We shall engage in discussions as needed to agree and implement any change management activities as necessary.

Yours sincerely,

Michael Hobson
Quality & Compliance Director
